ATTRACTIONS AND SIGHTSEEING

CROATIA | Umag

POREC

The seaside resort of Porec (12,000 inhabitants) is situated on the west coast of Istria, about 60 kilometers from Trieste (IT). Thanks to its ideal location on the Adriatic, the Mediterranean climate, the impressive monuments in the attractive center and the beautiful promenade, the city has grown into a famous tourist attraction. Despite its popularity, Porec has remained a friendly city with restaurants and cafés around the old harbor.

AQUACOLORS WATER PARK

Aquacolors Porec is the largest water park in Croatia - for everyone from 0 to 100. 12 extra-long slides are sure to satisfy even the biggest water freaks. For families with small children, there is a large children's pool with all kinds of water activities, as well as several long family slides. Relax during a gentle swim around the 500m-long lazy river or in the large wave pool.

ISTRIA

Istria is the largest peninsula in the Adriatic Sea and the most western province of Croatia. Istria boasts at least 445 kilometers of rocky coastline, making it a popular holiday spot for sun worshippers! The towns of Pula, Porec and Umag are the most noteworthy tourist destinations. Istria has a pristine natural landscape with lakes and waterfalls, a rich centuries-old culture and hospitable people.

UMAG

The seaside resort of Umag (13,000 inhabitants) is the first city you will reach when approaching Istria from Western Europe, about 40 kilometres from Trieste (Italy). Thanks to its ideal location on the Adriatic coast, the Mediterranean climate and the impressive sports infrastructure, tournaments and sporting events take place all year round. During the Jadran Cup the European youth will have the opportunity to enjoy this beautiful location. Dobrodošli u Umag, welcome in Umag!
